Water Level, Lac la Biche, Sets Record

Some interesting figures have been released from the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources, Water Resources Branch, concerning water levels of Lac la Biche over a period of years. The elevation of the water surface on Aug. 24, 1956, was 100.43 feet and this was the highest on record since readings were first recorded in 1930. This is 0.68 feet higher than the previous maximum of 99.75 feet on Aug. 28, 1930. The minimum recorded elevation is 94.59 feet on Sept. 12, 1938.

All elevations are based on an assumed datum only and are referred to a bench mark described as a large rock 42 feet west of the shoreward end of the pier. Assumed elevation of this bench mark is 100.20 feet.

From the lowest reading in 1938 to the maximum in 1956 represents 5.84 feet. Anyone who likes arithemtic might like to tell us how many gallons of water would be contained in the 5.84 feet.

Socreds Convene In Edmonton Nov. 26

Annual convention of the Alberta Social Credit League will open with the women's sessions in Edmonton November 26, according to league officials.

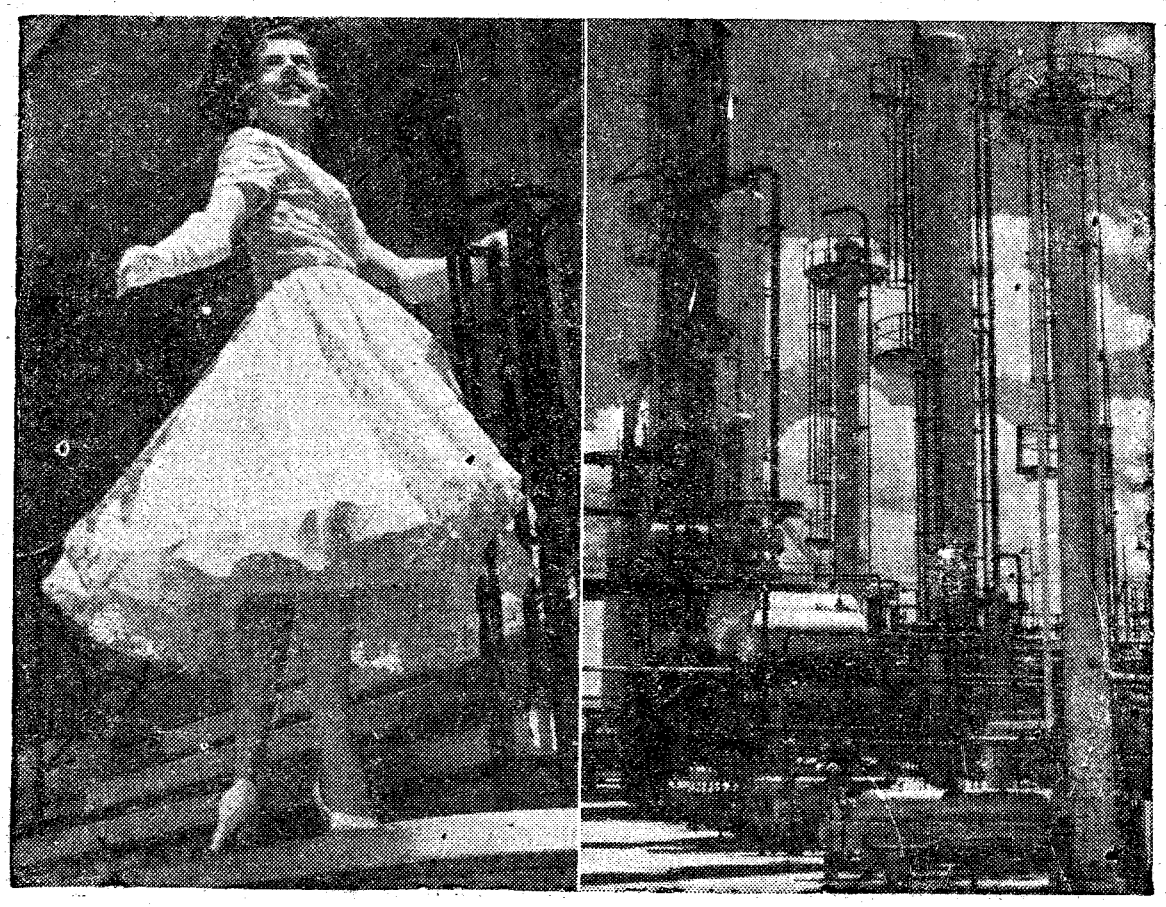
Main convention will be on the two following days. Orvis A. Kennedy will take the presidential chair. About 300 delegates and visitors are expected, as well as a large contingent of M.L.A.'s and M.P.'s. It is likely that S.C. legislators from outside the province will be there as guests.

Police Investigate Teen-Age Brawl

Edmonton police are investigating what they believe was a teen-age brawl in a city park Saturday night.

David Griffiths, 19, was treated to what police believe was a stab wound in the shoulder. The youth told police he was walking through the park with two other youths when they were involved in a fight with two others.

Griffiths said he thought he was stabbed with a switch-blade knife.



HUNDREDS OF products in daily use, such as the "petrochemical ensemble" modelled here by attractive Muriel McLeod, will be made from the petroleum-derived chemicals to be produced in a $25 million plant which Imperial Oil will start to build in Sarnia next spring. Not only the chic afternoon dress, but also shoes, stockings, crinolines, gloves and hat are made from chemicals. The new Imperial plant, which will use feed stock from the company's Sarnia refinery when it goes "on stream" in the spring of 1958, will include many towers and vessels similar to those shown at right. Chemical plants which will process further the materials from the Imperial plant will likely be built in the Sarnia area.

Delegation From Fire Brigade Suggests Payments For Attendance At Practices

The regular meeting of the Lac la Biche town council was held in the town hall, Sept. 11, with Mayor Hamar, Secretary Creighton and Councillors Maccagno, Raines, Perron, Vincent and McMillan present.

A motion was passed calling for a second vote of by-law No. 275, and the secretary was instructed to make the necessary preparations.

A delegation from the Lac la Biche Fire Brigade, consisting of Chief Dobson and secretary Mackriss was present to suggest that the council authorize payments to the members of the brigade for attendance at regular practices. The chief pointed out that the brigade met once a each week to keep in practice and discuss matters pertaining to fire fighting. He said it was becoming increasingly difficult to keep up interest and to recruit new members. The council assured the delegation that the work of the brigade was appreciated, and made it clear that simply because councillors were not often seen at the firemen's practices, was not an indication that they lacked interest in the work of the brigade. Council agreed to attend a meeting of the brigade in the near future to endeavor to work out an arrangement satisfactory to all concerned.

The appointment of Dr. Wm. Cadzow as medical health officer was approved. A building permit for an addition to dwelling, estimated to cost $500, was approved. It was decided that water service to be installed at the fire hall and also used for the skating rink, should be 1½ inch. Third reading was given to by-law No 277 which keeps tax consolidation in effect for the current year.

The resignation of police constable Joe Dixon was read, and a motion was passed asking that the secretary advertise for a police constable at once.

Authority was given for the installation of three additional street lights.

The secretary was authorized to order signs for the town offices and fire hall at once. The signs will be of plastic letters.

Accounts totalling $1,800.44 were passed for payment.

Four of Canada's National Parks are located in Alberta.

Lac la Biche

In spite of the low temperatures recorded in many districts of Alberta in the last few weeks, Lac la Biche gardens and flowers and the crops of the surrounding district still show no sign of frost. Harvesting operations are well under way, although the recent heavy rains have made many fields so wet that the harvesting machinery cannot operate successfully until more drying weather prevails.

LAW Connie Wolstenholme, who is stationed at Montapica, Quebec, as flight control operator with the RCAF, spent several days' leave at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wolstenholme.

Funeral Rites For Yvon Solaun

GOURIN—Mr. Yvon Solaun, a well-known resident of the district for many years, passed away on Sept. 8, in St. Catherine's Hospital, Lac la Biche, after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Solaun was born in France 55 years ago. He came to Alberta with some friends 28 years ago, when he settled in the Gourin district, where he resided until his death.

He was a bachelor and for the past five years made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dakin.

His only relative here was F. Favennec, a cousin.

Funeral services were held Sept. 10 in St. Philip's Roman Catholic Church in Atmore with interment in the parish cemetery.

Pallbearers were Francois Favennec, Henry Porodo, Rene Leyal and Jean, Louis and Francois Ulliac.

Lakeview Mortuary had charge of arrangements.

Herbert Erickson Wins First In Target Event

LAC LA BICHE — Friends of Herbert Erickson of the Goose Lake district will be pleased to learn that he has chalked up another victory in the 1956 Alberta Archery Contest by winning first in the men's target event with a score of 2,509, shooting from distances ranging from 40 to 100 yards. He also won third in free-style with a score of 1,512.

The Alberta contest was held in Lethbridge this year and in spite of the windy weather, was well attended. The provincial meets were held simultaneously across the country and results were compiled in Edmonton.

Congratulations to Mr. Erickson for his high scoring again this year.

Ripley Take Note!

Anton Hewko, Sarrail resident, in the summer of 1955 developed an excruciating toothache. No dentist being available, he managed to extract it without aid, (though he does not say whether he used the famed flat iron or door-handle trick). Now at 47 years, he finds a new tooth is filling the space.

Moore Will Attend Tourist Meeting

Ralph R. Moore, deputy minister of economic affairs and widely known as "Mr. Alberta," will represent this province at the annual convention of the Canadian Tourist Association in Charlottetown, P.E.I., September 17 to 20. He is a director of the national body.

The convention will extend over four days and this will be the first occasion on which John Fisher acts as executive director.

Presentation of annual awards for promotional literature will be a feature of the convention.

Water, Water

EDMONTON — Water jugs and drinking glasses installed for the first time Wednesday in city police court, were put to good use when a policeman giving testimony in an impaired driving case, became ill and needed water.

Ask Electors To Approve By-Law For Pumping Station Equipment

LAC LA BICHE — Mr. O'Brian of Associated Engineering Services was present at a meeting of the town council last Tuesday evening to discuss installation of additional equipment at the town's pumping station.

As a result of the discussion, it was decided to call for another vote on by-law 275 to ask for the approval of the proprietary electors in order that the town may borrow $6,000 from the provincial government to secure the necessary equipment.

When the by-law was put before the voters on August 15 only six votes were cast. Amendments to the Town and Village Act require that at least 10 per cent of qualified voters must vote on a money by-law. This means that something like 30 voters must turn out when the next plebiscite is held and council felt that a much larger number would show an interest when the facts were explained.

The next vote is set for Oct. 15. Mr. O'Brian recommended that two additional pumps, one low lift and one high lift, be installed as well as a steel filter of greater capacity. He felt that the town might have had more difficulty with a water shortage during the past summer had the weather been less co-operative.

Home Hints

STORE YOUR GARDEN FOR WINTER USE

Every year quantities of vegetables are grown in back yards, lots and farm gardens. Much of the produce is preserved through canning and freezing. But most of the root and tuber vegetables are stored as such.

Do you have difficulty in keeping vegetables in your present storage facilities? Every year there is a large loss of food supplies because of poor storage areas. Are you contributing to this loss? A well constructed root house provides ideal storage for vegetables. But very often it is not practical to construct such a storage. Most of the time we try to provide such area in the basement or cellar for this.

Because stored vegetables generally give rise to undesirable odors and because most basements are too hot and dry, suitable storage spots must be partitioned off and insulated from the rest of the basement. This can be done quite economically in most cases.

But, care must be taken to provide three essential conditions: low temperatures, good ventilation and relatively high humidity. If you are planning to build a proper storage unit this year in your basement — plan to build around a basement window. This provides a means of controlling the temperature.

An earth floor is ideal, but most of our basements have concrete floors and this tends to dry out vegetables. This can be overcome by covering the floor with peat, moss or soil and sprinkling frequently.

For better storage and for better vegetables write for our free booklet, "Construction and Operation of a Home Storage for Fruits and Vegetables."

Nickels Obsolete?

Edmonton residents may soon be wondering what to do with a nickel — whose uses are getting scarcer — if city council decides to increase the present pay telephone rate to a dime.

City commissioners have been advocating the move and the matter comes up before the council this week.

Practically all other Canadian cities except Calgary, Regina and Saskatoon, require a 10-cent toll.

Accidents continue to kill careless people.

DISTRICT AGRICULTURIST NOTES

By J. S. LORE

Salvage has been the objective of an experiment during the past five years by agronomists of the Beaverlodge Experimental Farm —salvage of forest lands ravished by fire. With forests gone, erosion follows, and to check that erosion rapid plant cover is required.

The agronomists in this work were C. H. Anderson, whose specialty is soil-fertility, and C. R. Elliott, in charge of forage crop investigations. They have shown that it is not only possible to prevent undue erosion following fire, but that these burned-over lands can become a valuable source of pasture for the livestock of neighboring farmers or for the wild game of the forest reserves.

In the late fall of 1950, following fires that destroyed vast tracts of forest in the Peace River region, two experimental plots were seeded on different soil types. Early the following April, with snow still on the ground, four more locations were seeded. Much of the organic matter had been destroyed by fire and depth of ash ranged from one to three inches.

The seed was broadcast by hand and the soil disturbed as little as possible. Several grasses and legumes were used. A thorough examination of the stands last August, five years after they had been sown, showed creeping red fescue, Kentucky blue-grass, bromegrass and alfalfa are the most satisfactory. Alsike and sweet clover also grew well but crested wheatgrass and red clover proved unsuitable for reclaiming burned-over soils.

The grasses did equally well sown in spring or fall. For the legumes, spring seeding is best; and since a mixture of grass and legume is desirable, spring seeding following the year of the burn is recommended. With grasses alone, the research men report a marked nitrogen deficiency after the first year as shown by yellowing, unthrift and by substantial increase of vigor where volunteer legume plants occurred. A useful mixture for burned-over seedings is six lbs. brome grass, three lbs. Olds creeping red fescue and three lbs. Ladak alfalfa, a mixture that has wide range of adaptibility and one that is recommended for general use in the Peace River region. There is no indication, say the agronomists, that soil type affected establishment of cultivated forages, but it is important that there be sufficient depth of ash to provide a seed bed.

Training Program For 'Witnesses'

The High Prairie congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are making preliminary plans to attend a three-day training program in Barrhead.

The object of the program is to equip every one of Jehovah's Witnesses in the practical use of the Bible as a help in fortifying the spiritual morale of the people in our community.

Jehovah's Witnesses world-wide are enrolled in ministerial training of at least five classes weekly. They maintain, that if a religion is worth believing it is worth putting into practice.

For that reason. the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, sponsors of the three-day Barrhead refresher program, have set the theme of the assembly as "Be Rich in Right Works".

Jehovah's Witnesses hope that the advanced training received at this assembly will help them to live closer to the Bible and its teachings. The program is scheduled for September 21-23 at the Barrhead High School auditorium.

Features of the assembly program will include: Circuit Activity meeting, Friday, Sept. 21 7 p.m.; Dedication and Baptism service, Saturday, Sept. 22, 1:30 p.m.; a free film showing "Happiness of the New World Society" Saturday, Sept. 22, 7 p.m.

The highlight of the assembly will be the public discourse: "Consulting God on World Affairs". This talk will be delivered by Charles E. Hepworth, visiting representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Toronto, on Sunday, Sept. 23 at 3 p.m.

Mr. C. V. Johnson, presiding minister of the High Prairie congregation reports there are 20 Jehovah's Witnesses from this district who will attend this important assembly.

Cigarette production in Canada in the first three months of 1956 amounted to 6.1 billion. Some 63½ million cigars were produced.

Quest For Oil Continues

ROCKYFORD — Visible on the eastern horizon at night are the lights of a newly erected oil derrick which continues the quest for oil in the province of plenty.

At press time the exact location of the rig is still uncertain, but it is in the neighborhood of Gilbert Burk's farm, south of his buildings.

As a number of gas wells are operating near Standard, perhaps there is a chance that the gas field will some day extend to Rockford and the idle gossip of years past of having gas heating in town will become a reality.

Reformed Church Observes 50th Year

VEGREVILLE — Brush Hill Reformed Church held services Aug. 19 to observe its 50th anniversary of the founding of the congregation. Rev. H. R. Roemer, pastor, officiated. Special speakers were present. Rev. J. F. Kreiger, Fort Saskatchewan, was guest sepaker and paid tribute to those who in witness to their faith in God had established Zion congregation. Mrs. Willis Carter, assisted by Miss Gibson, at the piano, sang a solo, "The Holy City." G. N. Hoskings sang, "The Stranger of Galilee" and Miss Ida Eickmeyer and G. N. Hoskings sang a duet, "Trusting Jesus."

During noon recess, a picnic lunch was served to all present by the ladies of the congregation.

TWO DIE IN HIGHWAY COLLISION

VERMILION — Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wood of Edmonton, met sudden death on highway 16, ten miles west of Vermilion on Saturday morning, Sept. 8, when their new 1956 model car and a loaded tank truck were in collision. Melvin James, driver of the truck, was uninjured except for bruises and a severe shaking-up. Both vehicles ended up in the ditch on the north side of the highway. Neither car nor truck turned over, the car being almost completely demolished and wedged under the engine of the truck. Weight of the tank truck which was loaded with hot asphalt was estimated at 27,000 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood were starting on a holiday trip to Ontario.

The tank truck belonged to the Willoughby Brothers trucking firm of Lloydminster. The truck was hauling hot asphalt for highway surfacing from the Husky plant at Lloydminster to a point near Lacombe. The driver, Melvin James, was a new employee with Willoughby's but had considerable experience as a truck driver with Husky Oil Co. He is 21 years of age and claims to have had a full eight hours sleep the previous night. He also claims that he is a teetotaler.

The accident happened on a mile of perfectly straight road, where visibility is perfect. No other vehicles were involved in the crash and as far as known there were no witnesses to the fatal accident. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Wood were taken to Edmonton where an autopsy will be performed on Mr. Wood to ascertain the cause of death. The RCMP are studying the photos of car and truck tracks and are investigating the case fully. An inquest will be held shortly after the cause of death is known.

Mr. Woods was the comptroller of the Alberta Government Telephones. A daughter, Salome, resides in Edomnton, and a son lives in Ontario.

To Commemorate 16th Anniversary Battle Of Britain

EDMONTON, — The Queen's color and the color of the RCAF will be paraded by members of the RCAF Regular and Reserve forces in Edmonton on Sunday, Sept. 16, "Battle of Britain Sunday", to commemorate the 16th anniversary of the Battle of Britain and honor those famous "few" who saved the British Isles in the dark days of 1940.

The famous battle marked the RCAF's baptism under fire, when for the first time a Canadian squadron took to the skies against the enemy, won its first victories and suffered its first casualties. Forty seven Canadian officers and men gave their lives and were among those immortalized when Sir Winston Churchhill said, "Never in the field of human conflict, was so much owed by so many to so few."

The parade will form at the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall at 1:20 PM, and will march to special church services at McDougall United Church and St. Joachims Church. Squadron Leader W. K. R. Batty and Squadron Leader C. L. Harding will conduct the service at McDougall United. The scripture lesson will be read by Group Captain H. G. Richards, acting air officer commanding Tactical Air Command. Flight Lieutenant A. L. Dittrich, RC Chaplain at RCAF Stn. Namao, assisted by Father B. F. Butts, will give the benediction at St Joachims Church.

Following the church services, the airmen will march to the cenotaph, where Group Captain Richards will lay a wreath, the last post will be sounded, and one minutes silence observed. Six jet aircraft from RCAF Station Cold Lake will fly overhead, dipping their wings in tribute as they pass the cenotaph. The parade then moves to the Legislative Buildings, where the salute will be taken by Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowlen, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta.

Storm Hampers Efforts To Recover Sunken Tug

LAKE ATHABASCA, (BUP) — Salvage crews were forced to abandon their efforts to recover the Sunken Tug "Clearwater" during the weekend due to a fresh storm on Lake Athabasca, 450 miles northeast of Edmonton.

Divers located the vessel last Wednesday lying on her port side in 135 feet of water. By Friday they had managed to secure lines to bow and stern and raise the Tug 40 feet from the muddy bottom.

The sister Tug, Radium Prospector, salvage ship in the operations, was driven from the lake by bad weather.

Once the Clearwater is raised from the bottom it will be towed to shallow water and pumped out.

The Clearwater went down with its crew of eight in a pounding gale on Aug. 28.

The task will be resumed when weather clears.

Mother, Murder Victim Sues Clark Estate For Over $100,000.00

EDMONTON, (BUP) — The mother of a murder victim has launched a suit for more than $100,000.00 in the trial division of the Alberta Supreme Court against the murderer's estate.

Mrs. Josephine Anderson of McLennan is suing the estate of the former Social Credit M.L.A., John Clark, on behalf of their son's estate after a jury decided the Clark case was one of multiple murder and suicide.

The case, termed possibly the first of its kind, arises from a coroner's jury ruling that Clark, in a state of manic-depressive psychosis shot and killed his wife and four children, a hired man, George Anderson, and a visiting sailor, on June 3, 1956.

He then turned the gun on himself while standing in a slough near his farm home.

The finding of his body climaxed one of the largest manhunts in recent years on the western prairies.

Gifford Main, acting for Mrs. Anderson, is asking, in addition, $50,000 general expenses, $50,000 exemplary damages, $257 for funeral expenses, plus costs of the action.

MENTAL HEALTH

What Is Mental Health

Mental health is so closely linked with how we feel, think and do, that it would be unwise if not impassible, to tie it down to a simple dfeinition. There is, however, one quality which is common to people who enjoy good mental health and that is emotional security.

Such persons are useful members of their community, reasonably happy, and well adjusted, who get along with their families, friends, school mates and business associates. They have their share of the blues, get into quarrels once in a while, lose their tempers, but they have learned to take the ups and downs, the troubles and annoyances of everyday living with a minimum of damage to themselves and others. These people can meet and "weather" life's serious crises.

Fortunately, mental health isn't a case of "either you have it or you haven't." Just as physical health can be improved or become run down, so too with mental health; that is the encouraging thing about it and the one that seems to be the most misunderstood. A weak or sickly individual can build better physical health and similarly most of us can do something about strengthening our own and our children's mental health.

Mental health isn't something that is separate from the rest of us to be strengthened with a "set of exercises" or "course of treatment". It's interlocked with our physical health, social life, church affiliation, family relationship, work and play and community participation.

In other words, good mental health might be described as something we have or develop from balanced living. Overwork, not enough recreation, selfish living—these won't necessarily make us mentally ill but they can lower our mental health. Regular, adequate meals, eight hours sleep, fresh air and exercise is time-tried advice for general health. It applies to mental health too! Family life, the church, social activities should play their important roles each in reasonable proportion. In this way we can keep emotional balance, respect for ourselves and others, self control, tolerance of the other person's views, ability to give as well as to take, making decisions and accepting responsibilities, facing up to problems and meeting success and failure with equally good grace. This list could go on but it adds up to the same thing, the ability to "get along".

Good mental health has been described as a family matter, flourishing in happy home life. How a child is brought up, the kind of family spirit about him—this is what mainly decides the kind of adult he'll become.

The main things that are so vital to sound mental health in children are basically simple — love and affection, praise and encouragement, a feeling of security in the home, a chance to really grow without being smothered by too much protection and too many "dont's".

If mental illness could be measured by the numbers in our mental hospitals, that alone would make it our greatest health concern. The tragic truth is that this is only part of the total picture. "Problem children", discontented workers, unhappy homes, lonely and frustrated individuals, moody and irritable personalities, fears we can't explain and ailments without physical basis that plague our existence—all these and many more are only too frequently signs of weakness in our mental health.

It is impossible to caluculate the terrific price we as a nation are paying because of poor mental health. That is why we have a large program to promote better mental health for Canadians being carried out by federal, provincial and municipal levels. That is why we have child guidance clinics. One will be held here in October. I would appreciate it greatly if any of you parents who have problems with your children that you are unable to cope with would contact me.

If one's mental health does become poor, there are qualified people ready to help. Mental illness of the serious kind never strikes without warning, the symptoms are there for some time. Like other sicknesses, mental illness is more easily cured in its earliest stages and gets worse when neglected.

Just as you go to your family doctor for physical ills, you should also see him when you feel your mental emotional health is suffering. He will advise you if it is needed. Many people neglect seeing their doctor about mental illness because they feel it is a disgrace. Mental illness has long been ridiculed by the public but this attitude toward it is slowly changing.

Mental hospitals in every province treat the mentally ill. We have come a long way from the "bad old days" of such institutions and our modern hospitals have a very fine treatment record though they are still sadly overcrowded. Many of these patients could have remained out of hospital had they recognized their illness and sought treatment early enough.
